CATTLE SHIPMENTS TO EUROPE.

Few people are aware of the extent of the cattle trade between this country and Europe, or of the fittings of a large steamer for the carrying of live stock across the tempestuous Atlantic. A new American steamer which has been built for this purpose may be taken as a specimen of the craft engaged in the trade. She is 3,000 tons gross register and has an extra-long poop deck and a top-gallant forecastle. She is built of iron, with iron decks and double bottom for water ballast, has but two masts and is very high between decks. In addition to her live freight capacity, she takes 1,000 tons of general cargo, 70,000 bushels of corn in bulk and 700 passengers. In her capacious space between decks, and clear fore and aft, stalls for stock are built, and each stall will contain from four to six head of cattle. The iron decks are covered with flooring, and to this cleets are nailed to prevent the animals from slipping when the sea is rough. The cattle all stand, when stowed, athwartships, and gangways are left between the pens for the passage of their tenders, there being one tender to thirty head of cattle. They are fed with hay and corn in the husk. The animal requires about fifteen pounds of fodder and eight gallons of water per day. The steamer has a condensing apparatus that will condense, if needed, 300 gallons of water a day. This vessel cost $225,000. She is an American model, and in rough weather her motions are easier than the prevailing style of British model. The loading of a steamer with cattle is a novel proceeding. Large barges built expressly for this purpose are used, and these are supplied with broad gangways, the ends of which can be lowered or raised like a drawbridge for the ingress or egress of the animals. Over the large hatchway of the steamer a pen is suspended from the cargo derrick, into which the wild-eyed bovines are driven, and when received, are lowered in a twinkling down the hatchway, and thence driven to their stall.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The friends of Dr. Dawson circulated a petition yesterday expressive of hearty congratulations upon the determination of the Board of Commissioners to make no removals of employes or officers of the asylum without sufficient cause and after an impartial hearing. It was very generally signed. It is gratifying to this community to know that the Board intends giving Dr. Dawson a fair and impartial hearing, and that before any change is made in the asylum management the best interests of the institution will be carefully guarded.

It would be a graceful and generous thing for Reno to give a benefit or dance for John Piper of Virginia. He has done more to give us first-class companies and contributed more to our amusement and pleasure than any one man. He has been ruined by fire, but is still full of energy. It is said he will rebuild, but whether he does or not we could well afford to help him a little. If anyone will move in the matter they can count on the GAZETTE'S best assistance.

It is noticeable that regular army recruiting officers say the poorest class of men offering to enlist are mill operatives, who are of poor physique, lack muscular development, and have their entire systems weakened by the character of their work.

An Iowa editor has been asked by a correspondent for an answer to the question, "Do hogs pay?" Looking over his subscription list, he finds they do not.

It is said that the high liquor license system in Nebraska works admirably in weeding out disorderly groggeries and increasing State revenues.

EASTERN DISPATCHES.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
How the Pacific States will be Benefited by the Isthmus Canal.
 NEW YORK, March 21.
 Whether the Panama or Nicaragua canal first reaches completion the grain trade of the Pacific States will evidently be a great gainer, and will show instant and enormous increase. The States have already sent between 1,000,000 and 2,000,000 tons of cereals to Europe. The annual export is somewhat varying with crops and the demand. It is carried around Cape Horn on sailing ships a distance of 14,000 miles. This route will be halved by way of the Isthmus transit. In other words, the time will be shortened by half, wages and maintenance of crew by half, and risks by half. Even with the added canal tolls, the transportation of the grain must cost from a half to a third less than now. This must mean the saving of many millions a year for the Pacific States. By the time either canal is finished, at the present rate in the increase of grain exports, it will probably mean the saving of scores of millions. Yet this is only one item in the prospective uses of an interocean canal.

"Home, Sweet Home."
 NEW YORK, March 22.
 The steamship Burgundy, from Marseilles, with the body of John Howard Payne on board, was signaled off Navasink Highlands at 10 o'clock this morning.
 Arrangements have been perfected for the reception of the remains of John Howard Payne. The body will lie in state in the Governor's room of the City Hall to-day and to-morrow. The hall is heavily draped in mourning. The body will be placed on a catafalque, so that visitors may readily view it as they pass through the room. Saturday the remains will be taken to Washington on a special car furnished by the Pennsylvania railroad, and delivered to the authorities of Oak Hill cemetery, to be held until the 9th of June—the ninety-first anniversary of the poet's birth—when the final funeral ceremonies will take place.

The Lady Who Died at Santa Barbara.
 NEW YORK, March 22.
 Mrs. Walkingshaw, whose sudden death in the Arlington Hotel at Santa Barbara, Cal., was announced yesterday, was the widow of the late J. C. Walkingshaw of Walkingshaw & Voight, wool merchants, Nos. 83 and 85 North street in this city. Voight told a reporter yesterday that he did not believe she had committed suicide, but thought she had taken an overdose of morphine. She had always been very careless in taking medicines and was in the habit of freely using powerful drugs to produce sleep whenever she was troubled with insomnia or pain. She left no relatives in this city.

Small-Pox Among the Indians.
 ST. PAUL, March 22.
 Rev. J. A. Gillilan, a Protestant Episcopal missionary of White Earth Reservation, says while the extent of ravages among the Indians by small-pox during the winter has been exaggerated, they have been quite severe and sufferings are noticeable. The Winnegoshish Indians and those at Road Point were the only bands to suffer. Advice from a resident clergyman give the total number of deaths at thirty-six. Pillager and other bands adopted, and rigorously enforced a most rigid system of quarantine, which proved so effective that not one case outside of those specified is reported. The disease is now under complete control.

A Drunken Attorney Kills a Man.
 ST. LOUIS, March 22.
 At Butler, Bates county, in this State, on Tuesday night, S. C. Holcomb, an attorney, shot night-watchman John Aleshire while under the influence of liquor. Aleshire died last evening, leaving a wife and five children. Holcomb belongs to the best family in the county, but for years has been a terror when intoxicated. He is in jail.

Don't Want His Company.
 HARRISBURG, March 21.

A Montana Murder.
 CHICAGO, March 22.
 A Bozeman, Montana, special says: Lewis and Nathan Lay, farmers near here, had a quarrel with Irving Hunter, another farmer. This morning Hunter was found dead in his field, where he had been seeding, with his gun near him. The Lays fled, and a Sheriff's posse is after them. If caught they will undoubtedly be strung up.

THE LATE TRAGEDY.

Conkling Expected to be Released.
Mrs. Uhler Still in the Hospital.
Sympathetic Dispatches From Friends—Haverstick's Body Sent Home.
 NEW YORK, March 22.
 In Mrs. Uhler's statement yesterday she said: I saw the gleam of a pistol in my brother's hand and then heard a report. Rushing out of my room I saw that Haverstick was shot and dying. I said to my brother, "Now finish your work by killing me." In a further conversation Mrs. Uhler said that the last time she had called upon her husband he had refused to let her see her two little children, a deprivation, she said, that nearly broke her heart. Divorce proceedings are pending and Uhler was quite content, she said, that they should dwell apart. She complained that the death of Haverstick left her totally friendless. Her brother, she said, had never helped her through life and she did not look for much protection from him now.

The Herald has the following: Geo. Conkling expects his release to-day. He spent last night in the tombs. He has been in receipt of sympathetic dispatches from many friends in different parts of the country, and there have done much to bring him back to a normal condition of self-control. Among messages received was one from the Surveyor General of Nevada, whom he is associated with in business. It ran as follows:

CARSON, March 21.
 Geo. W. Conkling, Jr.,—Accept my sympathy. See Col. Ellis, No. 58 Broadway.
 Col. Ellis has been doing all he could for the prisoner since the shooting, and was by his side yesterday during the progress of the Coroner's inquest. Another dispatch was from a friend who is connected with the Carson Mint:

CARSON, March 21.
 Geo. W. Conkling, Jr.,—You have our sympathy. Can we be of use?
 GEORGE DAVIS.
 As yet Conkling has had no word from his father or mother in San Francisco, though they were first to be informed of what had happened. In speaking of the reports that had been published concerning his sister, Conkling said to a reporter yesterday: "However little apology there may be to offer for my sister's conduct, it ought not to be supposed that she is naturally wicked or vicious. As her brother, let me say that she was always a good girl until she met this man, and this was the only diversion from the right path that can be charged against her."

Haverstick's body was taken to Carlisle, Penn., last evening, by J. B. Haverstick. Funeral services will be held there. Mrs. Uhler was interviewed by Howe & Hummel, her counsel, to-day, at the hospital. She anxiously inquired for news from her San Francisco home. She is confined to her bed.

A Tragedy at the Bay—Murder and Suicide by a Jealous Mexican.
 SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.
 This evening a shooting affray occurred in a beer saloon on Dupont street, resulting in the death of Jose Cipriano Sanchez, a Mexican, and the probably fatal wounding of a young girl named Clara A. Rennix. The girl is aged 18 years, and her parents reside in Portland, Oregon. She had been employed for the past two months at the saloon in the capacity of waitress. From the statement made by Miss Rennix, after the shooting, it appears there had been very intimate relations existing between herself and Sanchez for the past nine months. She stated that Sanchez was her husband, or was shortly to be. Sanchez, it appears, was very jealous, and to that fact alone was the tragedy attributed.

This evening Sanchez entered the saloon where the girl was employed, and said to her: "I want you to leave this place." She said: "All right; but give me time to get my cloak." She started to go to the back end of the saloon, when Sanchez drew a pistol and commenced shooting at her. She cried out: "Oh, don't shoot!" The first shot took effect in the left hand, and the second struck her in the back, and, ranging forward, came out at the breast. Just as Sanchez fired, the third shot she fell to the floor, and the ball missed her. The barkeeper, who had witnessed the shooting, shouted to Sanchez, "Stop that firing!" But the latter paid no heed to the command. Turning the smoking muzzle against his left breast, he fired the fourth shot. The ball passed directly through the heart, killing him instantly. The girl was removed to the Receiving Hospital, where she now lies in a very critical condition. "Her wounds are not necessarily fatal, but are regarded as very serious. Nothing is known of the antecedents of Sanchez."

A Camp of American Miners Attacked by Mexicans.
 TOMBSTONE, March 22.

A party of Americans, consisting of Capt. Thorndyke, L. E. Page, Joseph Bowman and Ramon McGowan, from the Providencia mine, Sonora, were attacked in camp Tuesday morning near La Cananea by a band of Mexicans, who opened fire from ambush. A fight ensued and Page was wounded. The Americans were overmatched and scattered. Thorndyke and Page escaped. The other two have not yet turned up, and it is feared they have been massacred.

DIED.

LEWIS - In Reno, March 22, 1883, John C. Lewis, aged 61 years.

JOTTINGS.

Minor Occurrences in and About Town.

A good deal of coal is going West. The storm don't come worth a cent.

A number of Bishop Whitaker's pupils went off this morning to visit their homes.

Easter cards at Nasby's Bazaar. Thermometer at 7, 9, 11, 1 and 3—46, 63, 68, 70, 72.

The Junior Hose boy's ball on the 30th will afford the first opportunity to dance for those who have been keeping Lent.

Minnows for bait are sold for 25 cents a dozen. As a general thing the bait is more valuable than the fish caught with it.

The big snow-clouds are fumbling around the peaks of the Sierra as if looking for a convenient place to drop their contents.

The river is steadily rising, but it cannot continue so long, for the reason that it will soon lower the fountain head to a summer level.

To-morrow will be Good Friday—not very good, however, for the half-dozen criminals who are to be hung in various parts of the country.

Squaw Davis is back in town again. It will be remembered that Mr. Davis was once the recipient of pointed attentions from the citizens of Reno.

Fishing for sport is becoming popular. A wide-brimmed straw hat and a long pole comprise the outfit. It don't make any difference whether you have any bait or not.

Hay may be scarce, but a considerable quantity is being brought to town, some for home consumption, but the most for shipment to Truckee and other stations along the road.

The people of Reno, especially business men, complain of excessive rents. Property owners seem to think tenants are made of money, or that they work only for the good of landlords.

The committee who had charge of the Catholic Church entertainment St. Patrick's day desire to return thanks through the GAZETTE to everyone who assisted in making it a success. The church received over $100.

The streets are pretty well torn up, especially Virginia street. The work of repairing water-pipes and laying new ones, together with Red Hoss Thompson's improvements, keep that thoroughfare in a condition of chronic upset.

PERSONALS.

Hi. Jones of Sacramento is at the Depot Hotel.

Captain Mathewson, the Internal Revenue Tax-collector, is in town.

W. P. H. Martin and M. B. Augustine of San Francisco are registered at the Depot.

Senator Keiser of Churchill is in town to-day, and is said to be looking after sheep-shearers.

D. W. Wallis, who attends to Dunphy's cattle business in this section, came in from Winnemucca last night.

Hi. Dean of Long Valley was in town yesterday, departing for home to-day with an assortment of farm utensils.

J. B. Linderman of Cedarville, having been on a visit to Napa, Cal., returned on to-day's train, en route for home.

A. W. Hukill and G. W. Orr with their families arrived from the East on last evening's train, on the lookout for a Nevada home. They are registered at the Golden Eagle.

FOR THREE YEARS.

The Female Vagabond on Her Way to Prison.

Fred Reid, Deputy Sheriff from Winnemucca, came in last night with Mrs. Helen F. Loveless, sent to State Prison for three years for stealing cattle. She is a rough specimen of femininity—bronzed and weather-beaten like an old prospector, and uncouth in all respects. No doubt it was originally intended that she should be a male, but by some freak nature reversed itself, and she became a neuter. Those who know her say that she can straddle a horse and lasso and throw a steer as quietly as any vagabond on the range. She is comfortably fixed, so far as property is concerned, and had no need to levy upon the cattle of her neighbors.

Leg Broken by the Fall of a Horse.

A man named Scott was brought to the County Hospital last night, suffering intense pain from a broken leg. He has recently been at work for John Snodgrass in Honey Lake valley, and yesterday morning his left leg between the knee and ankle.

A Large Male of Stock and Land. It is stated that J. Q. Shirley has sold his ranch of 4,000 acres on Raft river, Idaho, with 3,000 head of cattle, 1,000 sheep and 300 horses, to Knigh Brothers of Nevada for $90,000.

MESSINGER ROSS CAPTURED.

A Six-Shooter Makes the Old Man Weaken.

This morning just before the East-bound express started, Messenger Ross was called into Wells, Fargo & Co.'s office where he found a few acquaintances collected, employees of the express company. At first he thought there was going to be a row, and this suspicion was strengthened when he saw Sam. Stanaway coming toward him with a malicious-looking six-shooter. But about the time he had braced himself to give them all the grand bounce, Mr. Stanaway began to make the following speech:

Mr. Ross: We, as brother messengers of the Central Pacific and Virginia & Truckee routes and employees at Wells-Fargo's Reno office, take great pleasure in presenting to you this pistol as a token of respect for your meritorious defense of the treasure when attacked by highwaymen at Montello, and should you again be called upon to "hop out," we hope you will find in this friend that will keep robbers at bay until you can put on your boots.

Then Stanaway presented Ross with a splendid revolver, purchased by Wells-Fargo's employees for that purpose. It was a genuine surprise and the recipient showed that he was pleased and grateful for the favor, more so than if coming from any other source. He hardly knew what to say, but thanked them all for the gift, which he promised to use only in protecting the property of his employers. Not being a drinking man, he could not conscientiously ask them out to take something, and besides there wasn't time, for just then "all aboard" sounded, and the giant got into his car, one of the best pleased men that ever left the Reno depot.

TRUCKEE ITEMS.

Scraps of Interest From Our Neighbor in the Hills.

Gleaned from the Republican of March 21st.

The timbers are all on the ground and the carpenters are putting in their best sticks on the new Sherritt House.

The trial of Charles Milner for the murder of Dilly will be begun at Nevada City next Monday. A large number of Truckeeites are going down.

The ice has about all disappeared on Donner Lake. Spring, gentle Spring, is asserting its rights.

Between the summit and Verdi there are thousands of cords of wood waiting to be served up and fed to the hundreds of engines doing service on the rails of the Central Pacific.

Col. Irons is negotiating with Harriman, the walker, with a view to have him make in Truckee the longest continuous walk ever made. Should he succeed, it will probably cause exciting times for a few hours at least in this unusually quiet mountain town.

Myron Young has received a letter from the Singer Sewing Machine Agency at Sacramento, stating that Boulton is discharged, and stating that "no man who does or attempts to do what Boulton did can remain in our employ one day," etc. It is rumored that Mrs. Young intends returning to Truckee.

WORTH TRYING.

Stacking Straw and Green Alfalfa Together.

We would like to see some one try the English method of stacking, says the Colusa Sun. They stack straw and green grass, just cut, in layers. Say six inches of green grass to three feet of straw. This grass cures in the stack and sends its aroma all through the straw so as to give it all the flavor of hay, and it also adds greatly to the strength of the straw. Stacked in this way with fresh cut alfalfa, a straw stack would be almost as valuable as all hay. The English save all their straw in this way, and in that wet climate the straw cannot be nearly so good as ours.

Death's Shadow.

John C. Lewis, whose death has been daily expected for the past two weeks, crossed the dark river this afternoon. Mr. Lewis was one of the first settlers in Reno. He came in 1868, and has lived here ever since that time. He leaves a wife, two grown sons and a daughter. The time for the funeral has not yet been fixed.

A Villainous Slander.

The editor of the Eureka Sentinel, who is a shiftless wreck of a man, inflicts the following upon the people: "They are now telling the story of a Reno girl who insisted on throwing her shoe after a newly married couple. The carriage is a total wreck, a doctor has the bride and the horse under treatment, and a large number of men are searching the ruins for the groom."

The Weekly Gazette.

Get a sample copy of the WEEKLY GAZETTE of to-day. It is a splendid number, containing forty columns of choice reading matter, including a full report of the Conkling-Haverstick tragedy.

Prisoner En Route.

Officer Norris this morning went east with Lou Houck, arrested at Los Angeles for a murder committed in Ohio in 1879. He is an ordinary looking man and does not appear to be particularly bright, but, like a singled cat, he may be better than he looks.

TWO LIVE LITTLE TOWNS.

Camps That Bid Fair to Become Permanently Prosperous.

Hawthorne, the new capital of Esmeralda county, is showing considerable life. Thirteen buildings are in process of construction, and more will be started as soon as material can be had. When work begins on the new county buildings a large number of mechanics will be employed in order to get them ready for occupancy on the first of July. This, together with other work going on, will make the town very lively. Coryville, twelve miles from Hawthorne, is assuming the aspect of a prosperous mining camp. New buildings are going up as fast as lumber can be obtained. Senator Ryan is moving a house from Bodie, and others will be brought from there. Some good prospects, outside of the Mount Cory mine, have recently been found in the vicinity, and diligent pioneers are scouring the neighboring hills to see what they contain. Most of the prospectors are old hands at the business, and if there is anything in the country they will be likely to turn it up.

"POP!"

Rice's Surprise Party Will Entertain Reno Next Wednesday.

Rice's Surprise Party will make their second appearance before a Reno audience next Wednesday evening in the new musical extravaganza entitled "Pop." John A. Mackay and Miss Kate Castleton are the stars, and they have kept San Francisco good natured for several weeks. The water war has been almost a second consideration. There is more genuine fun and talent exhibited here than is usually found in this class of performances. "Pop" is one of those odd pieces made up of odds and ends, in which the plot is forgotten, and the attention of the audience is entirely engrossed by the excellence of the specialties which follow each other so rapidly. Mr. Mackay and Kate Castleton evoke a great deal of laughter by their sayings and doings. Mackay's imitations of leading actors are very clever. If you want to enjoy a pleasant evening, don't fail to engage seats for this funniest of all funny plays. Box sheet now open.

RAILROAD FUEL.

Magnitude of the Wood Business in the Truckee Basin.

Something of an idea of the contribution of the Truckee Basin to the wood demand may be gleaned by knowing that Bronco furnished last season 3,000 cords; Prosser Creek, 5,000; Martis Creek, 6,000; Truckee, 18,000; Donner boom, 4,000; Donner Lake side, 3,000; Champion's, 3,000; Kneeland's mill, 3,000; in all 45,000 cords, all of which is purchased by the Central Pacific Railroad Company. The winter of '81 and '82 proved a cheap one for the railroad company, says the Republican. It was a mild winter and the snow plows, which are the means of consuming large quantities, did not have much work to do. The best wood is cut in the Fall and winter, for the reason that the bark holds looser to the wood, and the railroad company always try to contract for wood cut during the Fall and winter months.

Drowned in Lake Tahoe.

On Saturday morning last a little boy named O'Donnell, whose parents reside at Glenbrook, was seen playing on some of the loose boards near the wharf at Lake Tahoe, and nothing further being heard of him until afternoon, F. Powers and others took a boat and commenced a search, and about dark the dead body of the child was found in about 12 feet of water. The little fellow, says the Tribune, only seven years of age, must have slipped from the boards and been carried into deep water by the undertow.

In a Bad Box.

W. H. Crane, Register of the Susanville Land Office, and formerly State Senator from Lassen county, has been taken to San Francisco under arrest by the United States Marshal, charged with issuing forged receipts from settlers and appropriating public moneys to his own uses. Crane says he can satisfactorily explain the charges.

Summer at Lake Tahoe.

The season will soon begin. Already upholsterers, painters and such are at work getting the numerous caravansaries ready for the expected guests. This season will, without doubt, prove the most lively of the lot. An unusually brilliant season is anticipated.

Irrigating Near Lovelocks.

Farmers have commenced irrigating on the meadows near Lovelocks. As they get water from the Humboldt, they do not fear a scarcity of that essential fluid until very late in the season, if at all.

The Humboldt River.

Ranchmen along the Humboldt say the river is falling, and at its highest stage lacked three feet of being as high as it was last Spring. Fears are entertained that it will not be any higher during the Spring than it is now.

Cattle Movements.

Nine car-loads of cattle went West last night to Poley, Hellbrow & Co., San Francisco; and J. H. Flickinger shipped six car-loads to San Jose.
